CLME + NBSLME

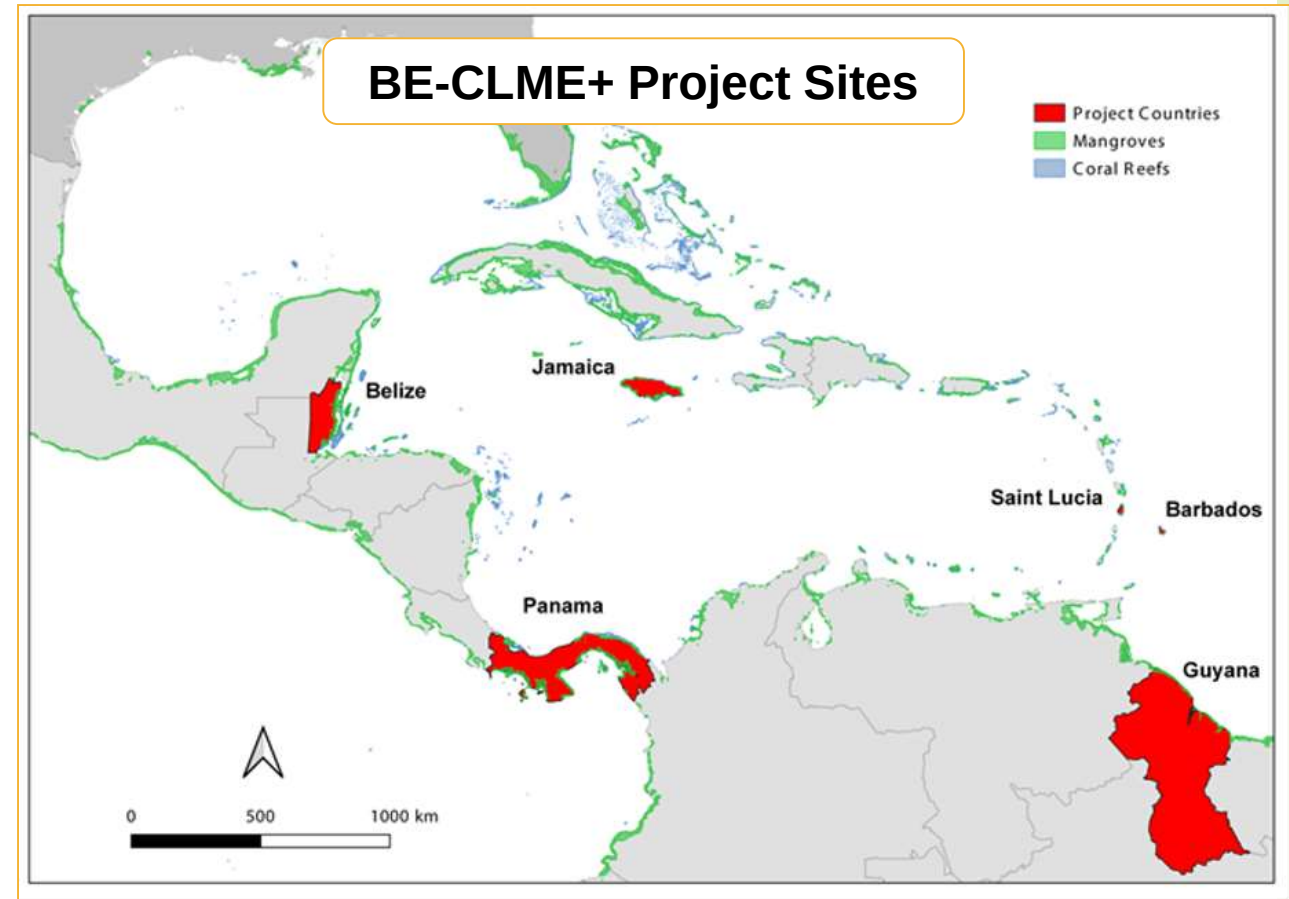

BE-CLME+

- The project aims to advance sustainable blue economy development across Barbados, Belize, Guyana, Jamaica, Saint Lucia, and Panama.

INTEGRATED APPROACH

- The project's integrated design brings together Marine Spatial Planning (MSP), marine protected areas (MPAs), ecosystem approaches to fisheries (EAF), sustainable seafood value chains, and knowledge management to strengthen regional cooperation and learning.

PROJECT COMPONENTS c

Component 1

Implementing Cross-Sectoral Marine Spatial Planning

Focuses on investments into national and regional marine spatial planning efforts that inform development and implementation of national blue economy strategies.

Component 2

Inclusive Sustainable Fisheries Value Chains

Focuses on establishing inclusive sustainable seafood value chains (harvest to final consumption) that take into account building resilience to climate change and capacity to deal with external shocks like COVID 19.

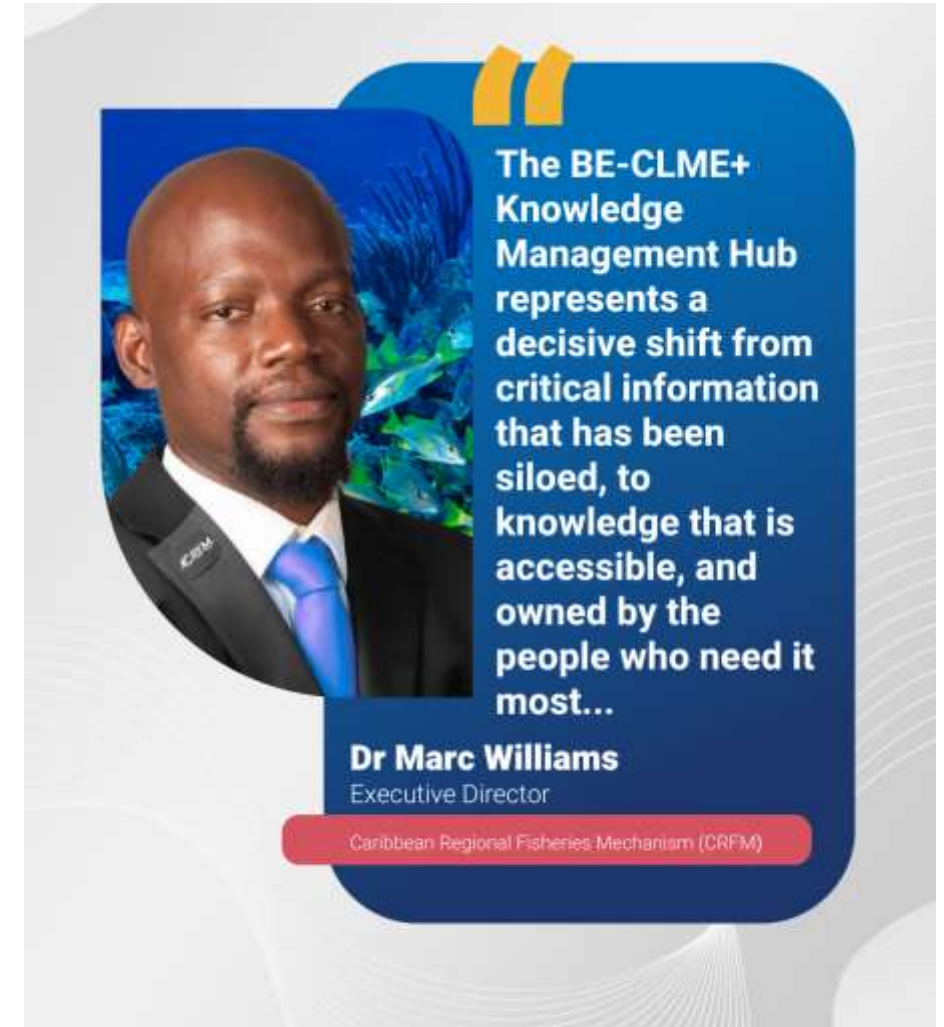

Component 3

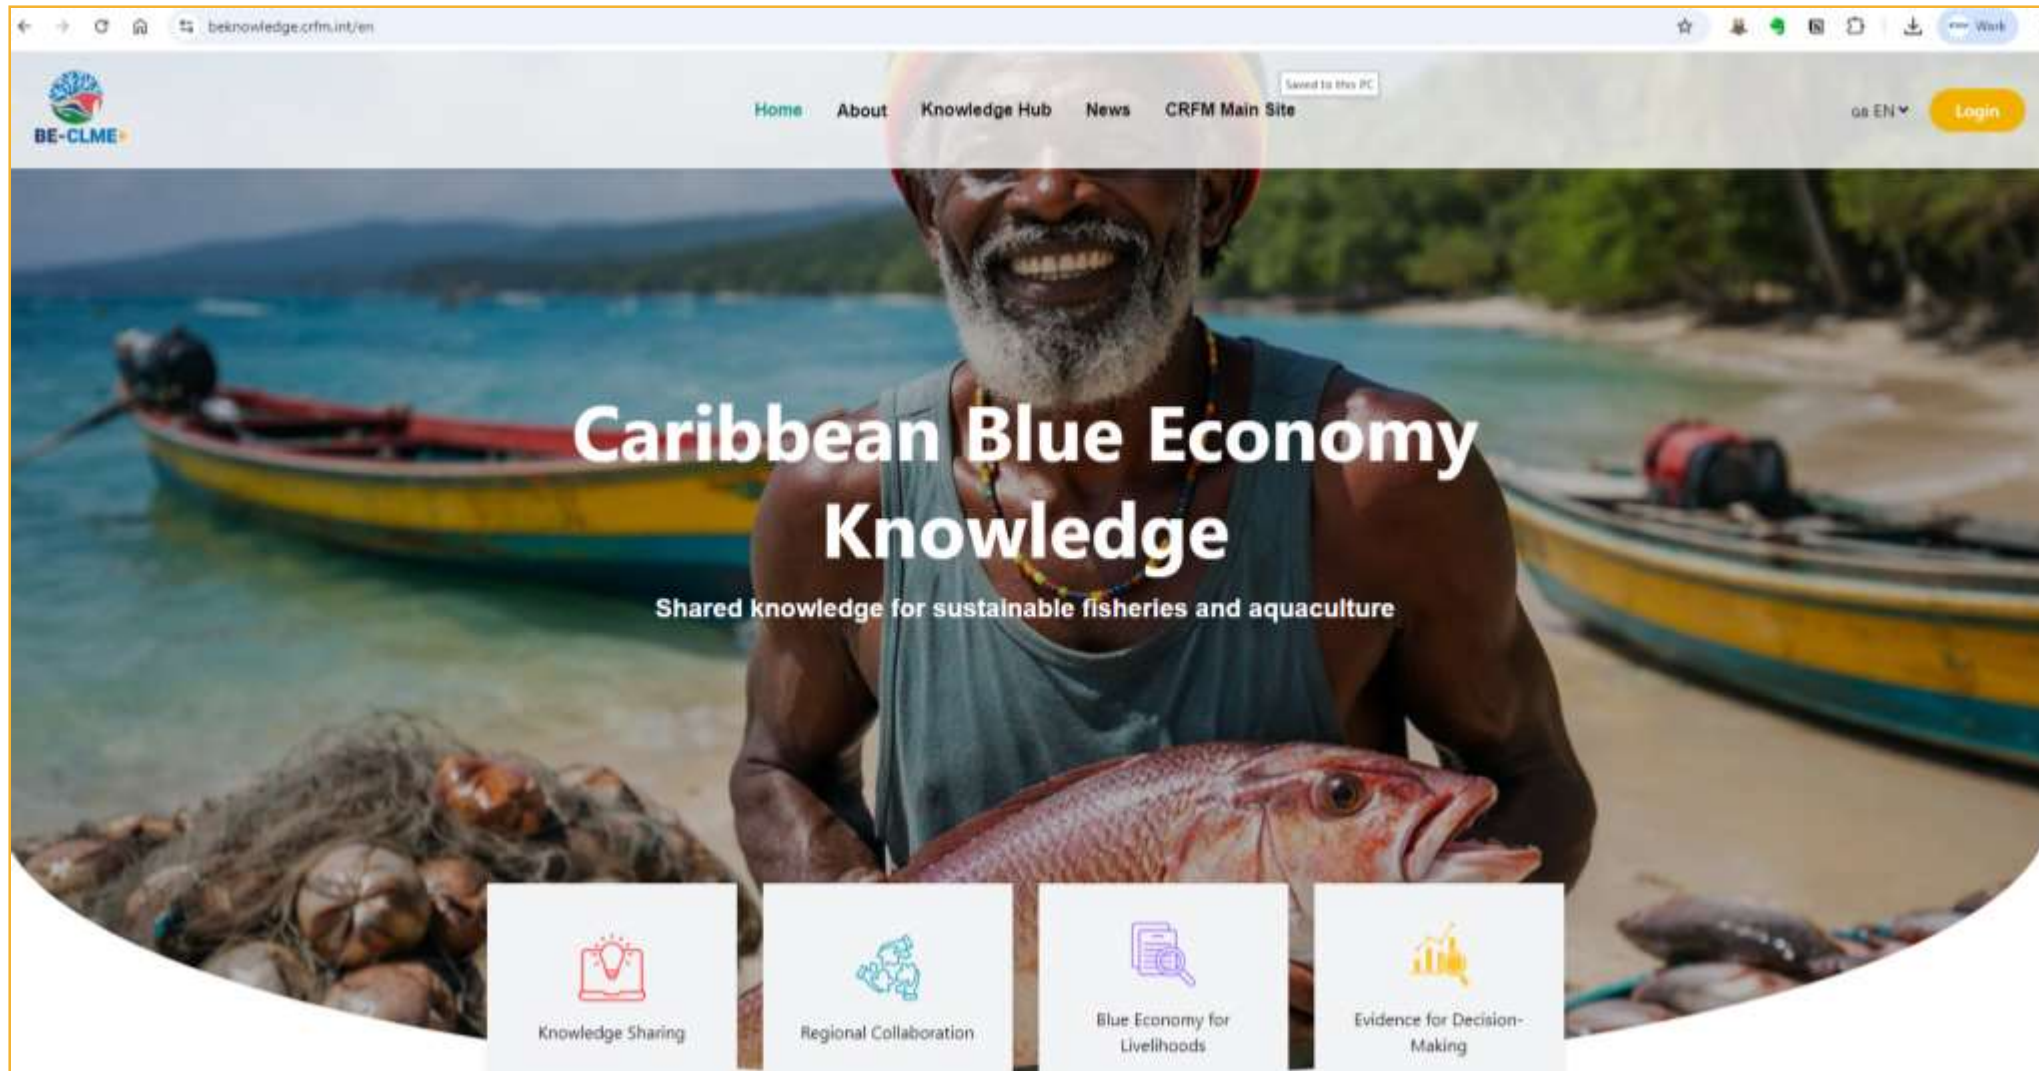

Regional Coordination, Project Management and Knowledge Management

Supports the first two project components through knowledge management and project monitoring and evaluation, based on knowledge and experiences from the project as well as taking advantage of knowledge and experiences with the blue economy from other regions.

The BE-CLME+ Knowledge Hub

- Original Peruse Limited was selected to lead a comprehensive consultancy to strengthen knowledge sharing and strategic communication for the BE-CLME+ Project. The consultancy focuses on the design, development, and implementation of a robust Knowledge Management and Information Platform that brings together data, insights, best practices, and lessons learned into a single, accessible regional resource.
- This platform seeks to support informed decision-making, foster collaboration, and enhance learning across all stages of project implementation.

The website has a navigation bar with links: Home, About, Knowledge Hub, News, and CRFM Main Site. There is a 'Login' button and a language selector set to 'en'. The main banner features a smiling man holding a large fish, with a boat in the background. The text on the banner reads 'Caribbean Blue Economy Knowledge' and 'Shared knowledge for sustainable fisheries and aquaculture'. Below the banner are four icons representing different themes: Knowledge Sharing, Regional Collaboration, Blue Economy for Livelihoods, and Evidence for Decision-Making.
